DYNAMITE MAIMS A LOUISA BOY IN CELEBRATION

Ernest Compton, age 16, was horribly mutilated by a dynamite explosion on Perry street in Louisa Wednesday night about nine o'clock.

The right arm was blown off between the wrist and elbow, both eyes are destroyed, a hole was blown in the right chest, the entire face is burned and mutilated, his hearing is destroyed or impaired, and his body burned nearly all over the front part.

The unfortunate boy was taken to Riverview hospital at once, and up to the time this was written he was in a stupor. Whether or not he will survive is a question not easy to determine.

The accident occurred in the street between the residences of B. E. Adams and Mrs. Elizabeth Hatcher. Ernest and some other boys had several sticks of dynamite and were shooting in celebration of the election. One charge failed to explode as soon as was expected and Ernest went to it intending to re-light the fuse. Just as he attempted to do so the explosion occurred.

Ernest is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Compton, who live in one of W. M. Justice's houses adjacent to the Louisa Inn. Mr. Compton is a contractor employed by the Norfolk and Western railway on the Portsmouth and Williamson division. Mrs. Compton is a sister of Mrs. W. M. Justice, and Arthur and Ralsh Blankenship. Much sympathy is expressed for the boy and the family.

COUNCIL MAY ORDER MORE PAVING

The City Council met Tuesday night. The levy for 1921 was laid at 50 cents on each $100 worth of property for general purposes, which is 25 cents less than the limit allowed by law. It is the same rate to which the present council reduced the levy last year. 25c was laid for taking up the bonds.

The council then adjourned to meet again next Tuesday night, at which time the subject of paving Italy addition and Central addition will be taken up. Also, paving for any other streets not already provided for will be considered if application is made. The expense of the paving is borne by the abutting property owners and it is hoped there will be a full attendance of citizens from the streets involved in this proposition.

The evening train from Pikeville to Ashland runs five minutes earlier than formerly, the time at Louisa now being 7:05.

WEST VIRGINIA JOINS THE PARADE

The Republicans walked away with West Virginia also. In Cabell county the Democrats elected the county clerk, assessor, circuit clerk and one member of the Legislature.

Wayne county elected all Democratic candidates by majorities around 800.

Road Amends. Carried.

The one bright spot for everybody in West Virginia was the success of the good roads amendment to the constitution, providing for a state road fund of fifty millions of dollars. Wayne county will get a large slice of the amount, which will enable her to complete a large amount of hard roads.

Fobe Picklesimer, wife and two children, of Texas, motored to Kentucky last week. They were en route to Johnson county and stopped over in Louisa to visit relatives.

BEATS KING SWOPE IN EIGHTH DISTRICT

The only change in Kentucky's representation in the House took place in the Eighth Congressional District, where Ralph Gilbert, County Judge of Shelby county, defeated King Swope, the present Republican incumbent, by an incomplete majority of 3,774. Judge Gilbert carried seven out of the eleven counties in the district.

Mr. Swope was elected in 1919 to fill out the unexpired term of Harvey Helm, Stanford, who died while holding office. He was a captain during the war and in the special election defeated Judge Charles A. Hardin, Harrodsburg, Democratic State chairman.

In the center of the table was a lovely bouquet of cut flowers and the dining room was decorated with autumn flowers. Seated at one end of the table was the blushing "bride and groom," surrounded by the five sons and daughter. Many neighbors were also present to enjoy the day.

The afternoon was spent in picture making and relating childhood experiences. Mr. and Mrs. Compton have spent their entire married life here and are highly respected. ## LAWRENCE COUNTY ELECTION RESULT

The result in Lawrence county is admitted by some of the Republican leaders to be quite a disappointment to them. The organization was the most complete they have ever had and school house meetings were held almost every night, and at several places on some nights, with speakers sent out by the organization. From State headquarters they sent workers here, both men and women, it is said, who spent some time in superintending the work of organization and "rousing." The majority expected ran all the way from 400 to 800, according to the enthusiasm and vision of the estimator. The vote of the women usually doubles the normal majority of a county when conditions are normal. This accounts for the average expectation for Lawrence to be about 500 Republican majority.

Mr. R. L. Vinson, chairman of the Democratic campaign committee, says in view of the above facts he is well pleased with the results in Lawrence, and he extends thanks to those who assisted in the work.

STREET BONDS WON LARGELY

The fact that more than two-thirds of the people in Louisa are in earnest about civic improvement has again been demonstrated by the result of the vote on bonds to pave the intersections of the streets. $15,000 is the engineer's estimate of the amount needed to complete all the intersections included in the entire paving project as already adopted and contracted, and which is expected to be completed next year.

In the upper ward the vote was 136 for bonds and 27 against. The lower ward gave 208 for and 105 against.

COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION

The following were elected to compose the County Board of Education in Lawrence County. There were seven candidates:

S. W. Burton.
Martin Burchett.
A. F. Bishop.
Joe White, Jr.
Mack Sammons.

This is under the new law. Next March this board will elect a county superintendent of schools for four years.

MAN IN JAIL TO BE COUNTY JUDGE

Whitesburg, Ky., Nov. 3.—Fess Whitaker, former jailer, but now in jail, carried Letcher county for County Judge over Stevens Combs, Jr., by 1901 majority. This closed one of the most interesting campaigns in the history of the county.

Whitaker, prisoner in his own jail, conducted his campaign against odds, and made speeches from the jail door.

Senator Beckham Winner by 6,000

Senator J. C. W. Beckham

Late Figures Show Kentucky 16,000 Plurality for Cox.

Latest tabulated returns in the race between Senator Beckham and R. P. Ernst, Covington, for United States Senator, as received by the Associated Press and the Louisville Times, show Senator Beckham has a majority of 6,094. In cases where a few mountain counties are out, the majorities of 1916 have been doubled for purposes of estimation. This is considered a liberal estimate and it is believed that Senator Beckham probably will have a larger majority than the figure indicated. Kenton county, which went 4,600 for Cox, went more than 1,000 for Ernst. Senator Beckham ran behind and Ernst ahead of their respective tickets there, Ernst picking up 2,000.

Governor Cox would seem to have carried the State safely by about 16,000.

OUR NEIGHBOR COUNTIES.

Floyd county gave a Democratic majority of 804 for Cox and Beckham.

Knott county's plurality for Cox is 1491 and for Beckham 1451.

Johnson county gave 2500 majority for Harding and Ernst. H. B. Conley was elected county judge and Isaac Rice commonwealth's attorney. The county board of education is George W. Butcher, J. H. Picklesimer, H. M. Rice, W. B. Richmond, J. H. Baldwin.

Boyd county gave Harding 1219 majority.

Pike county's Republican majority is about 2500.

Congress Also Very Properly Goes the Same Way, Giving the Republicans Full Responsibility.

KENTUCKY DEMOCRATIC BY A SAFE MAJORITY

Senator William Gamaliel Harding, of Ohio, was elected President last Tuesday by one of those landslides that periodically takes place in the United States.

His request for a partisan Congress was granted by the people and there will be no more such shifting of responsibility for the next two years as has been witnessed during the last two.

Ohio gives Harding something near 200,000. The Republican candidate for Governor wins by a majority of about 50,000.

New York elects a Republican Governor by a small majority.

Tennessee is claimed by the Republicans, but Democrats do not concede it.

New York, Nov. 3.—The Republican landslide continued to roll along in even greater proportions today as belated election returns came in from the West.

Besides electing Harding it was assured that the Republicans would increase their margin in both houses of Congress, and in the Senate, in particular, would change their precarious control by one to a substantial working majority.

Congressional returns from many States were slow, as were, indeed, the returns on the vote for President. But on the basis of actual returns at hand and indications from partial returns coming in, it seemed that Harding would have not less than 350 votes in the electoral college with a probability of more than 350, while all that could be counted in the Cox column were the 127 votes from the Solid South.

Unless some sudden change were to appear it seemed that the returns were making good the Republican prediction that Cox would not carry a Western or a Northern State.

In many of its aspects the election was very unusual. It developed what may turn out to be the greatest Republican victory of party history. Both the Democratic candidate and his chief managers conceded defeat before enough returns actually were in to show it in figures.

Everywhere the shift toward the Republican column was heavy. Many States which went to the Democratic strength when Wilson defeated Hughes in the sensational election of 1916 returned to the Republican column in Tuesday's balloting.

Boston going Republican for the second time in its history, New York giving Harding an unheard-of plurality and ratios of two to one in many States give indications of the proportions of the Republican slide which apparently left the Democratic candidate nothing but the traditionally solid South.

With the Presidency and Congress went loss to the Democrats of Governors, State Legislatures and other State and local candidates. The break even threatened to extend into the border States further, "Solid South," with Republican gains in some Southern States larger than any since the Civil War.

The unofficial results presaged a larger majority in the Electoral College for Senator Harding and his running mate, Governor Coolidge, of Massachusetts, than any since 1888, except alone the vote of 435 for President Wilson in 1912, during the Republican "split."

The Republican Congressional swing was as strong, increased majorities in both Senate and House being marked up. Early today victory for virtually all fifteen Republican Senators for reelection was spelled by the returns, while about a half dozen of the nineteen Democratic candidates were battling against Republican leads.

Kentucky Returns.

Old Kentucky has come back home, regardless of the money of Ernst and Hert and national headquarters. Cox and Beckham win by safe majorities and a Congressman is gained in the eighth district.
